

Information – COVID-19/ Coronavirus

Blumberg, 26.06.2020

Dear customers, dear partners,

The easing of the various corona prevention measures has begun throughout Europe in order to slowly revive public life and gradually return to normality. Nevertheless, certain restrictions will continue to accompany us for some time to come. Today we would like to inform you about the current status at ELVEDI:

Furthermore we are taking care that the prevailing hygiene and distancing guidelines for the protection of all employees are observed. Our production is still running smoothly. All customer orders can be produced and delivered punctually and in full. We are working closely and actively with our suppliers and contractors. All agreements and processes that have been established are functioning very well.

In short: We are capable of delivering, and we will remain at your service without restrictions.

In our 35-year company history, we have overcome several crises with success. Therefore we can assure you also for the coming months that ELVEDI will survive this crisis and that we will continue to be at your service.

Our sales representatives are at your disposal. We will gladly advise you by phone or online via video. Just contact us under the customary telephone numbers +49 (0)7702/4382-0 or by e-mail to info@elvedi.com.

We wish you all the best, and stay healthy!

Your ELVEDI Team
